

SMALLNESS OF VICTORY LOAN MEETS APPROVAL

4¾ Per Cent Short Term Notes Will Be Main Issue

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Subscriptions will be received during the Victory Liberty Loan campaign for the wholly tax exempt notes bearing 3½ per cent interest, which the treasury will issue as alternatives of the 4½ per cent securities with partial per cent securities with partial tax exemption. Emphasis, however, will be laid by solicitors on the 4½ per cent notes, and an effort will be made to round up the bulk of subscriptions to these securities, which may be converted at any time into the 3½ per cent notes.

A limited amount of the 4½ per cent notes will be available for outright sale, but the treasury is not sure that all demands for cash purchases can be filled. As in past campaigns, work has been rushed at the bureau of engraving on the bonds of small denominations, since these constitute most of the over-all demand for sales. There will be plenty of the notes for sale as "samples" by dealersmen, officials said today.

Gratification over the $4,500,000 total of the loan, which is smaller than had been generally anticipated, and the interest was expressed today in hundreds of telegrams reaching the treasury from loan committees throughout the country. Many of these were to the effect that the government had raised the hopes of loan workers and financial observers.

Officials discussing terms of the Victory Loan today said one reason for their belief that the market price of bonds of past issues would be low was the presence of new government securities, with that there still should exist a strong demand for the older issues by large tax payers. With certain arrangements of holdings of past issues it is possible to hold $160,000,000 of bonds of past issues.

The new Victory Loan is expected to sound the keynote for the Victory Loan campaign in an address tomorrow night in New York. He plans to leave Friday for a two weeks' speaking tour of the west.

The national committee chairman said today that the new loan will be a

San Francisco and New York by way of the Panama canal during the loan campaign, the daily position of these vessels indicating the amount of subscriptions.

The faster the country subscribes the faster the vessel will travel and the sooner will the harbor of victory be reached.

As the ship proceeds towards San Francisco the "harbor of victory" its progress will be shown by maps in the newspapers and by large bulletin boards erected at the important corners in the large cities of the country.

The distance to be covered is more than 5,000 miles and the trip can be made easily within

EVEN FATALITIES IN RACE RIOTS

MILAN, Ga., April 14.—Seven fatalities were reported today in race riots which broke out yesterday at a lynch mob church, this county. County Policeman W. C. Brown, H. H. Stephens night marshal, and four negroes were killed and another negro was taken from the jail and lynched.

Seven negro lodge and church buildings have been burned and it is feared that the trouble is not at over.

INNE TRANSPORTS

SAIL FOR U. S.

Washington, April 14.—Sailing of nine transports from France was announced by the war department today. One of the vessels, the von Steuben, which is due at New York April 19, has aboard the headquarters band of the American expeditionary forces. It is being sent home to aid in the Victory Liberty Loan campaign.

CHARGED WITH PLANNING

REVOLT

Helsingfors, April 14.—Eight persons have been arrested at Viborg in the act of planning a revolt. It was intended to blow up the officers club, the bridge and the ammunition depot in co-operation with a Bolshevik attack on the city. A revolt also was planned to break out in Sweden and Norway.

ELECTION TRUTHS FOR TODAY:

Beware of apathy.

Beware of overconfidence.

Beware of the pussyfoot campaign.

Don't let apathy, overconfidence or your failure to recognize that the democratic candidate for mayor is making a quiet but active campaign defeat the will of the people who want E. E. Crabtree elected mayor.

"Wanting" will not do the trick. The only votes that count are those that get into the ballot box. The polls open at 7 and close at 5 o'clock today.

If E. E. Crabtree does not get a good round majority it will be YOUR fault.

PERFECT, WITH 50 EXCEPTIONS.

Hamilton Holt, editor of the Independent, one of the most active propagandists of the British-Wilson league of nations covenant, says the covenant "without a single amendment is the greatest document since the Declaration of Independence was first promulgated." Nevertheless, he says, "I can point out fifty improvements that to my mind will serve to clarify its text." Could Mr. Holt point out fifty improvements that would clarify the text of the Declaration of Independence Asks the National Republican.

NAMING STREETS FOR SOLDIERS.

In Batavia, Ill., the other night the council determined upon the renaming of certain streets. These streets hereafter are to bear the names of the soldiers of that town who have fallen in this war. It is a worth while way of commemorating the deeds of the heroes of 1918, a way which any town or city might adopt and not at all interfere with a more pretentious plan for the recognition of soldier bravery.

THE CLEANUP PLAN

A health department agent was in Jacksonville Monday to create interest in health promotion week. It is a pretentious program that has been outlined, something for each of the seven days. It will take a great deal of both organization and enthusiasm to put thru the whole program but without doubt enough local interest can be created to reap some benefit from the general movement. The condition of streets and alleys is not deplorable here—in fact, it is better than has sometimes been true. Nevertheless a general clean up of all streets, alleys and back yards will constitute about the most practical feature of the health week plan.

VICTORY LOAN TERMS LIBERAL.

The victory loan total will be $4,500,000,000 according to the treasury announcement just made. The sum is not as large as many financiers had expected and the belief is widespread that the liberal terms will at once place the Liberty notes in great demand. They run for a short period of years, at a high rate of interest, free from ordinary taxes, and certainly furnish a splendid way of "seeing this thing thru," and having America pay her honest debts. The war is over but the bill has not been paid. When the marvelous prosperity of the country as a whole is remembered, the task of floating this Victory loan becomes insignificant.

DEBS IS UNREPENTANT.

Eugene Debs went to federal prison with unbroken spirit and has started upon serving of his ten year sentence because of disloyalty to his country in time of war. If any doubt remained as to the guilt of Debs on the charges made against him, it should have been dispelled by the statement attributed to him just as he entered prison walls. "I am a revolutionist," he said, "and I enter the prison without regret. I have acted in the way that seemed proper and best and there is nothing in my course that needs apology."

The offense charged against

Debs was so flagrant, the proof that he sought to interfere with the war program so conclusive, that there should be no very wide protest against the punishment that is now being meted out to him.

Rippling Rhymes By Walt Mason

The Lawn Mower.

How dear to my heart are the thoughts of the winter, the winter that's gone with a jump and a jerk, when lawyer and banker and tinsmith and printer got snow in their ears when they went to their work. Oh, winter's a season of laughter and loving, of singing the ballad and telling the yarn; but spring is at hand and I soon must be shoving the rusty old mower that stands in the barn; the slacking mower that shrieking old mower that stands in the barn; mower that stands in the barn. How sweet is the snow when it's seeping and sifting! I'd gloat o'er a snowbank, I'd greet it with smiles; how pleasant the snow when it's whirling and drifting— we don't have to mow it or rake it in piles. The snow is all gone from the hill and the valley, it's melted and gone from the tor and the tarn; I'll have to quit playing baseball in the alley, and push the old mower that stands in the barn; the back action mower, the steam winding mower, the man killing mower that stands in the barn.

SECOND BAPTIST CHURCH PROGRAM

Good Reports Made by Special Teams—Address Made by Soldier.

A meeting of special interest was held at the Second Baptist church Sunday night when a number of clubs reported solicitation work in connection with the pre-Easter rally. The reports were made as follows:

The Brotherhood, chairman, Charles Brannum, $56.
Sunday school, Mrs. Laura Lafayette, chairman, $57.
Third Ward clubs, Mrs. N. J. Blue, chairman, $55.

Four ward clubs, Mrs. Hattie Robinson, chairman, $18.20.
This made a total of $348.27, which was accounted as excellent for the period during which the clubs made their canvass. The membership of the church was increased by four at this service and various reports made indicated the prosperous condition of the organization under the leadership of the pastor, Rev. H. H. DeWitt. The pastor expressed his appreciation of the interest and enthusiasm manifested by the church. At the Sunday night service a very interesting address was given by Lieut. W. H. Hutchison of a machine gun company of the 366th division. At the close of the very helpful service the congregation joined in singing the old time hymn "Steal Away to Jesus."

COUNTY QUOTAS GIVEN IN VICTORY LOAN

Allotment for Morgan Is $1,365,900—Terms are Liberal.

The Morgan county quota for the fifth Liberty Loan was made known Sunday from Washington when a telegram was received here by Edgar E. Crabtree, Illinois chairman for the eighth district. The Morgan county allotment is $1,365,900. Mr. Crabtree received the allotment from Washington for each county in the district under his direction and the figures were transmitted by him to the several county chairmen.

The fifth loan, which is known as the Victory Loan, is different from its predecessors in that notes instead of bonds are to be issued. There is very little difference save that the notes are to run for a period of four years instead of twenty and they bear 4 1/2 per cent interest and are subject only to surtax and excess profits tax. The details of the loan are in accord with those expected as there has been a previous intimation from Washington that the details of the loan would be liberal.

"The man with his name on your dollar bill," Hon. John Burke, U. S. treasurer, will speak tonight at Christian church under auspices of Triangle club. Admission free. All welcome. Chicken pie supper before address. 50c plate.

URGED TO BUY WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Owners of Liberty Bonds Urged to Invest Interest Money in Stamps

Chicago, April 14.—The treasury department today, through the Illinois War Savings committee, advised every holder of bonds of the Fourth Liberty Loan to reinvest the half year interest which is due tomorrow, in Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps. The government's thrift campaign offers Liberty Bond holders, particularly the holders of single bonds and small lots, an opportunity to place their Liberty Bond interest immediately at work for the government at a lucrative interest rate. Liberty Bond interest coupons, as such, do not earn interest, they are the interest. Invested in War Savings Stamps the interest will earn four per cent compounded quarterly, will be safely invested, and will be always available for a pressing need.

The bonds of the Fourth Liberty Loan, which pay six months interest today earn at the rate of 4 1/2 per cent. Two coupons from $100 bonds of the issue will more than buy a War Savings Stamp, costing this month $4.15. In five years the War Savings Stamp will be worth $5. A single coupon from a hundred dollar bond of the Fourth issue will more than purchase eight Thrift Stamps, or half the number necessary for exchange into a War Savings Stamp. Through the post office department the treasury department has arranged that Liberty Bond interest coupons will be accepted as cash in the purchase of Thrift Stamps or War Savings Stamps at any post office.

THIS WEEK NEW ATTRACTIVE READY-TO-WEAR GARMENTS AND MILLINERY WILL BE ON SALE MODERATELY PRICED AT HERMAN'S.

SERGEANT COLEY TELLS OF BATTLE EXPERIENCES

Was With Medical Unit and Saw Much of the Carnage of War—Home on Short Furlough.

There is a happy little family on Westminster street, made so by the recent arrival home of Sergt. J. J. Coley from overseas. He is not here yet to stay but has a furlough for 30 days which he may possibly have extended.

Sergt. Coley enlisted in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, his home, June 19, 1918 and served ten months along the border in the medical department and was discharged.

He enlisted again in June and was sent first to Ft. Riley, Kan., three months; then to Camp Bowie, Texas, where he received the grade of first sergeant in the medical department in which he was serving.

July 18, '18 he sailed on the steamer George Washington, for France arriving at Brest and proceeding thence to Bordeaux, then to Braseraude and then to the Champagne front where they brigaded with the Fourth French army of which his command was a part. There it was that they made the memorable drive from Souin to the Aisne river.

They moved to the front in the dark having French wagons drawn by little mules and in the darkness lost their way. A shell from the Huns killed three of the seven in Sergt. Coley's special mess or detachment. It dropped along side of them as they were wearily tramping along the road but fortunately they were strung out so that the missile only got three of them.

For 45 days they had all manner of experiences and for 27 days their clothes were not removed. Sleep was taken by the few minutes as it could be snatched between times and death was stalking with them about all the time.

They had marvelously close call on their way that dark night. Being unable to speak French they couldn't ask for information and plodded along supposedly on the right road till finally a breathless interpreter informed them they were but half a mile from the Huns. Quietly they retraced their way and quietly they drove their little mules to the right road and reached their place of duty all right.

Their duty it was to render first aid to the wounded and during that awful 27 days hundreds of poor fellows sacrificed life or limb. Without rest or sleep worth mentioning; with knives in hand and anesthetics and medicines near by they looked more like butchers than men of mercy which they were.

Hard Experiences.
Hour after hour the stretcher bearers would arrive now with a man badly shot to pieces; now with one who had lost an arm; one who was minus a leg and occasionally one who had lost both; here would be a man with a ghastly hole in his face; another with his body lacerated with scraps from shrapnel shells and so on from day to day the dreadful work went on till the little company was nearly ready to drop with utter exhaustion.

Food was five miles to the rear; plenty of it when they could get it and they would take turns going back after it and sometimes a shell would so fall that the messenger never returned. They occupied dugouts fitted up as best they could and when first aid was rendered they sent the wounded on back to the base hospital. The utmost care had to be used at night for even the light of a match or cigarette would serve as a target for a rain of German shells.

One pleasant feature of the service was the seven days leave of absence for each four months service at the front. Transportation and all necessary expenses were paid at good hotels at prominent cities the men wanted to visit. Sergt. Coley went to Nice and Monte Carlo and very greatly enjoyed the trip. They were not permitted to visit the gambling rooms while playing was going on but could see them before hand.

Oct. 29th they started for Metz and were on the way Nov. 11th and fighting was stopped. After that the men were billeted in barns, houses or any sort of a place they could find. The people were kind to them but wood was scarce and luxuries few. Rain fell nearly every day, clearing away at night and never any thunder or lightning.

Sergt. Coley sailed on a French boat Roma from Marseilles March 15th and his headquarters are now at Camp Mills, New York. He is looking well and has good reason to be proud of his record.

NEW LAMP POSTS FOR CENTRAL PARK

Globes and Posts of Ornamental Design to Be Placed Soon—Tennis Court at Nichols Park Remodeled.

The park board met in regular session last evening with Mrs. Hollinger, Terrance Brennan and S. W. Nichols present.

The new lamp posts for central park have arrived and the globes and posts both are beautiful and will be highly ornamental to the place. They will be put in place as soon as possible.

The matter of police for Nichols park was discussed but no conclusion arrived at last night. The park will not be open formally till May first.

It was decided to get the seats in central park placed in position as soon as possible and the decision was to place them 24 inches back from the circular walks; none along the main walks. There are to be sixteen in all.

The secretary was instructed to order needed supplies for the first ward playgrounds.

The chair reported that the board of education had courteously granted permission to use Independence school house grounds and the vacant room in the building when needed. The sincere thanks of the park board are due the board of education for their kindly permission to use the property mentioned.

The secretary was instructed to prepare a set of rules to govern the golf links and present them at the next meeting.

The superintendent, Mr. Hopper, reported the tennis court at Nichols park re-organized. The back stops were too near each other for successful playing and have been changed so that there will be ample room for one court; the other court will be turned into a croquet ground. The secretary was instructed to order whatever supplies were necessary.

The superintendent reported all drives in Nichols park south of the large bridge graded and put in as good order as possible without cinders which will be applied next winter.

The flowers are blooming and the tulips are coming up in Nichols park which is now very beautiful and becoming more so every day.

INCREASED VALUE OF FARM LAND.

(Springfield Journal.)

Commenting on recent transfer of real estate in Central Illinois, one of the readers of The State Journal asks whether the prices do not represent an inflated valuation. He doubts that the figures quoted show the true value of the property, based on its producing capacity.

"I am willing to admit," says this reader, "that there is no better farm land anywhere than in this section of Illinois. Yet I can't believe that there are any considerable tracts of farm land near Springfield which are actually worth more than $300 an acre."

For the life of me, I can't understand how farmers can pay any such price and hope to make anything on their investment, even at war-time prices.

"Doesn't it look to you as if the wave of inflation has hit our conservative farmers? It looks that way to me. It seems that those who are paying these prices must have the 'faith that passeth understanding.' I would like to know on what they base their theory that $300 and more an acre for land is a substantial investment."

A report of the agricultural department, just issued at Washington, will assist this reader in understanding recent prices paid for real estate in this vicinity. It shows that the increase is not confined to Central Illinois, but is general throughout the country. In some sections the increase is higher than in this vicinity.

Moreover, it has been realized on older and less productive land.

In Iowa, where the farm land is much the same as that near Springfield, the general rate of increase is higher than in Illinois. Yet Iowa farmers can produce nothing that cannot be produced here. Nor are they more advantaged as good. They do not get quite so much for their products and they must pay "west-of-the-Mississippi" prices on articles they buy in the east.

Because there is so little productive land in Iowa, its state average is now higher than that of any state in the Union. Illinois is second, despite the fact that it has considerable areas of broken land in the southern part of the state and considerable areas of farms subject to overflow.

The Washington report shows that for purposes of taxation farm lands throughout the United States have increased in value seventy-one per cent since 1910.

The actual increase, without doubt, is much higher, since assessing bodies are disposed to be conservative in making increases. In some states values are changed only at long intervals and in others there is a variation in the basis of making assessments. Accepting as correct, however, the total increase in the value of farms is in excess of twenty billion dollars.

While land has been increasing in value there has been a corresponding increase in the value of farm buildings, estimated at more than four billions. The figures received by the department warrant it in estimating the value of farm lands and improvements at sixty billions. The average value per acre, under this estimate, is $73.21. This amount only a few years ago would have purchased the very best improved farm acre in Sangamon county.

Taking everything into consideration, including the present purchasing power of the dollar, there appears to be no reason for assuming that purchases of land at $200 per acre are due to any spirit of speculation. The price is no higher than that paid for similar land elsewhere. When compared with prices paid for poor land, far removed from markets, the prices paid hereabouts seem to be conservative.

THOS. LEWIS' DEATH
CAUSED BY ACCIDENT

Scott County Resident Crushed by Automobile—Mrs. Bernbrauer Dies After Long Illness—News Notes.

Winchester, April 14.—Thomas Lewis, long time resident of this county, received serious injuries in an automobile accident near Arenzville about midnight, Saturday, from which he died later. Mr. Lewis, whose home was on a farm 3 1/2 miles from Winchester, accompanied Roy Hoots in an automobile to Arenzville. In attempting to make a square turn in the road the car was overturned and Mr. Lewis was pinned to the ground underneath the partially open door in such a way that he received internal injuries. Medical aid was summoned from Arenzville but without avail and Mr. Lewis died without recovering consciousness.

GOOSE GREASE
Better Than Ever

Grandma's old fashioned remedy, turpentine and goose grease, probably has broken up more colds than any other remedy. The combination is still successful, but it has been greatly improved.

MEN-THO-EZE is goose grease and turpentine with menthol, wintergreen, peppermint and other healing oils added. Rubbed on the chest, the goose grease and turpentine do as good work as they did in Grandma's time, but while they are working from the outside, the fumes of the menthol and other oils are inhaled, acting directly on the tender linings of the throat and lungs, relieving the soreness and loosening the phlegm—giving relief in 20 minutes.

Be prepared to treat the next cold as soon as you detect it—before it grows serious. Get a jar of MEN-THO-EZE today and keep it handy. In opal jars, 30c to 60c.

SERVICES HELD FOR METHODISTS

There were special programs of interest to Methodists Sunday in connection with the conference and rally of the Young Woman's Foreign Missionary society and the Standard Bearers. Dr. D. D. Brummitt, editor of the Epworth Herald, made a very strong address at Grace church, using "An Adventure in Advertising" as his morning theme. The address was a further explanation of the Centenary Movement. At night his theme was "He Makes Wars to Cease" and the minister discussed various problems resulting from the war.

Miss Carlotta Hoffman spoke Sunday morning at Brooklyn and at night at Centenary church. Miss Hoffman has served for a long period as a missionary in India and her addresses were alive with interesting facts based on her experiences.

The delegates here for the conference Saturday night enjoyed a banquet at Grace church and an entertainment at the Woman's college which came later. Sunday afternoon a conference was held at the college, when various matters related to the affairs of the societies were discussed.

Gave Birthday Party.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Crews gave a birthday dinner Sunday at their country home near Bluffs in honor of their son, R. M. Crews, about 20 of the near relatives being present. When the noon hour came, at the old time, the guests were invited to the dining room and found the tables in waiting, heavily laden with all good things to eat. All present did justice to the eats. The afternoon was spent in music and the invitation was extended by the hostess for a six o'clock dinner as no one then seemed to be in a hurry to go home. All knew something good was in sight so the bunch stayed. A vote of thanks was extended to the hostess for the elaborate spread. All there sure did enjoy themselves, R. M. Crews being honorably discharged from the Rahe Auto School training station at Kansas City recently made the occasion all the more enjoyable. He received many useful presents. When the parting hour came everyone there wished R. M. might live to have many more birthdays happily spent as this one of the 13th day of April, 1919, was. Mrs. J. C. Brodies and son were among the guests.

YOU MEN WHO PAY THE FAMILY SHOE BILLS.

Tramping 18 miles a day, Mr. H. M. Foreman, a mail carrier of Allentown, Pa., found that shoes with ordinary soles last about one month. But he says a pair of Neolin-soled shoes gave him more than nine months of service, in which time he walked over 4,000 miles.

His experience shows how you may save shoe money by providing your family with Neolin-soled shoes, which give extra wear where other shoes wear out quickly.

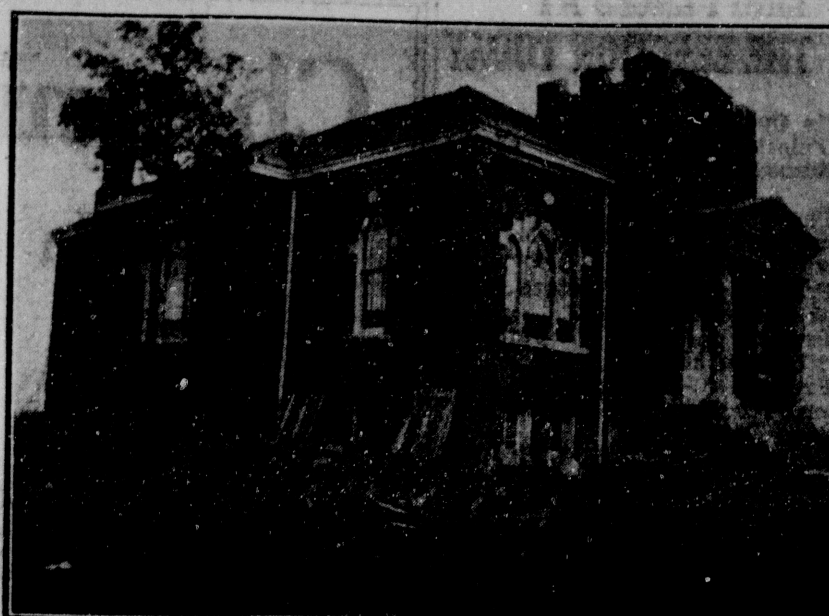

You can get Neolin-soled shoes in any type of shoe you want. Prices are about the same as for shoes that give only ordinary wear, sometimes they are even less. If your dealer hasn't the style you want, he can get it for you quickly. Remember, Neolin Soles are created by science to be what shoes should be. They are available everywhere for re-soles as well as on new shoes. CAPT. NORBURY IS HOME FROM FRANCE

Saw Active Service With Medical Corps Dating From July—Pays Tribute to Italian Efficiency.

Capt. Frank Garm Norbury, recently discharged from the medical service of the army, is now in Jacksonville with Mrs. Norbury and their small daughter, Ruth Margaret, who yesterday met her father for the first time. It was last July that Capt. Norbury sailed for France, attached to base hospital No. 7.

Nearly all the members of the unit were from eastern states. They were stationed for the greater part of the time abroad at Joux-las-Tours, and there cared for thousands of sick and wounded.

Capt. Norbury was chief of the laboratory service but the hospital staff was often depleted so that the opportunity and necessity for all kinds of work was afforded.

Nearly all of the men cared for were from the American forces, although there were a few from other nationalities. They came thru to the hospital from the engagement on the western front during September and October up to the signing of the armistice in great numbers. Then when peace was declared the stream of wounded men slackened but there were thousands of those sick with disease who needed attention.

Moved Slowly.

It was Jan. 17 that the unit received notice of the transfer to the U. S. but it was in February before the actual order to move came. Then because of certain priority orders, there were annoying delays so that Capt. Norbury and the detachment under his care as adjutant did not sail from St. Nazaire until March 8.

For several reasons it was a slow trip and Hoboken was not reached until March 27. The detachment was sent to Camp Deven where it was demobilized by Capt. Norbury.

At St. Nazaire during the weeks just before he sailed Capt. Norbury frequently saw his brother-in-law, James Barnes, who is with the marines and now serving as a company guard.

Capt. Norbury was asked about the manner in which the news of the signing of the armistice was received and said that while there was great rejoicing that the excitement was not as great as would have been the case had there been no previous inkling of the important events transpiring. The demonstration at Joux-las-Tours was very similar to that in other cities in France and somewhat of the kind in the cities of the U. S.

Imposing Ceremonies.

From some standpoints a special celebration which occurred a few days later was the more interesting event. It was a dinner given at the principal hotel in town especially for officers. The French general commanding the region presided and the number of officers present ran to a thousand or more, including French, English, American and Italian nationalities. Since the number of Americans predominated, many of the addresses made either in French or Italian were read from a manuscript in English to the assemblage. Capt. Norbury said that he had never expected to see so large a group of army officers gathered on an occasion of great interest. Capt. Norbury witnessed in February when Gen. Pershing presented the cross of distinguished service to a number of officers. This was a ceremonial of the most imposing kind.

For a period of a month Capt. Norbury was so located that he had an opportunity of observing Italian efficiency and like some other American officers, has the feeling that too little credit has been given to the Italian forces both for their prowess and for ness. The Italians were exceedingly well trained, their equipment excellent and the service in all departments of a most efficient type.

Capt. Norbury's personal plans have not been announced and for the immediate present he will remain in Jacksonville. It will be remembered that in recognition of his university record Capt. Norbury was on the staff of the Boston City Hospital when he joined the medical reserve corps. He was later assigned to the laboratory at the base hospital at Camp Deven. Besides directing this service he had charge of the camp public health work. Months of experience at Camp Deven fitted him especially for the responsible work overseas.

MISS McDOWELL TOLD OF WAR IMPRESSIONS

Chicago Settlement Worker Who Visited Munition Centers in France Spoke at Congregational Church Sunday Evening—Was Last in Series of Community Forum Addresses.

An audience of large proportions gathered Sunday evening for the last number in the community forum series at the Congregational church. The address was made by Miss Mary McDowell, head of the University of Chicago settlement in Chicago, and her theme was "My Impressions of the War Zone Following the Signing of the Armistice." Preceding the address there was a song service into which the congregation joined heartily, and then Rev. W. E. Collins introduced the speaker of the evening. Miss McDowell said in her introductory remarks that she had been asked by the Young Women's Christian Association to go to France and visit the munition centers in order to gain an accurate knowledge of what the women were doing there. She spent three months abroad, landing in Bordeaux the week before the armistice was signed. Two months of the period were spent in France and one month in England.

First Impressive. In a graphic way Miss McDowell described her impressions on first landing, the feeling of homesickness which came over her and how this feeling passed away when she was greeted by a soldier in khaki with the typically American greeting, "How are the folks back home?" At every turn, the speaker said, there was the American soldier, very eager to talk to someone from home. Miss McDowell told of her arrival in Paris the day before the signing of the armistice and of the way in which the French people celebrated when the booming of cannon told of the coming of peace. On every hand there were American flags and the dominant feeling was one of gratitude to America for the part she had played in the winning of victory.

Continuing, Miss McDowell said: "After the signing of the armistice I at once proceeded upon my mission of visiting the munition centers. I wanted to know what those thousands of French women had been making during the four years of the war. Many had never worked in factories before but came for patriotic reasons; others were refugees from the devastated parts of France. The war brought a great industrial change in France. Heretofore women had been manufacturing beautiful things—silks, lilies, lace, fine china, etc., but when the war came they began to work with machinery, to handle metals and to do work which men had always done.

Outlook was a Dark One. "The Y. W. C. A. went to France to protect women and in the munition centers they had set up hostess houses near where the women were working, and in countless ways helped to make conditions more desirable. When hostilities suddenly ceased the women workers did not want the factories to close down. Many of them had no homes and no relatives and the outlook was dark. The French government had not made preparations for that day and consequently there was confusion among the workers. The officials said they could go back to their home work but many had no homes. Those who had wanted to be sure about the wages they would receive. They were asked what they thought the minimum wage should be and they said seven francs a day would buy the necessities of life. They thought only of the necessities, not at all of the luxuries of life."

Miss McDowell spoke in highest praise of the work of the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, the Knights of Columbus and other war relief agencies, and especially did she commend the work of the many American women of fine character who gave that touch of home which the boys so greatly appreciated. But for these beneficent influences the situation would have been well nigh intolerable. She also praised the young English women known as the W. A. C.'s who left home for the first time, many of them, to face a situation altogether new, and played a most important part in the relief work.

The work which the women did in the munition plants was described. They made all kinds of shells and intricate fuses, worked lathe, and many of them took care of their own machines. The speaker said she had often heard of the extravagance of the women workers, but that she found them as a rule thrifty and modest in their tastes. Some of them had a natural desire for pretty clothes and for various comforts, but it was really not extravagance but a higher standard of living which had come to the women of England and France. They had never had such wages before and four years of that experience was bound to bring a change.

High Regard for President. Miss McDowell emphasized the high regard in which the people of France and England hold President Wilson. This admiration for the chief of the American nation was everywhere evident. She told of attending great mass meetings where the president was paid high tribute, and quoted a prominent London newspaperman as saying: "It was not Mr. Wilson, the person, the people were honoring, but rather the voice that formulated their greatest desire."

"There is no such thing as going back to pre-war conditions," said Miss McDowell. "We have a new world to make. Over there they are planning for it. Their faces are turned forward—they dare not look back. We take it for granted that the league of nations will come to pass some day, and in this crucial time President Wilson should have the backing of public opinion."

Miss McDowell closed her address with the reading of a letter written by John Coulter, son of Prof. Coulter of the University of Chicago, to his mother. The young man saw active service in the war, and in an appeal for loyal support of the president said: "Any American who by word or deed does anything to discredit or lessen the strength of our president in this hour is not only a traitor to America, but he is a traitor to humanity."

REV. A. A. TODD TALKED TO CIVIL WAR VETERANS

Strong Sermon on Recent World War—Veterans Were in Attendance.

At the first Baptist church Sunday evening Rev. A. A. Todd, D. D., delivered a powerful discourse on the late war. He took for his text two especially appropriate verses from the Second Psalm: "The Kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together against the Lord and against His anointed—He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision."

The Kaiser of Germany backed by nations numbering 175 millions of people undertook a gigantic war mistakenly thinking he would conquer the whole world and make other nations his vassals. He trampled ruthlessly on every principle of right and justice and wantonly destroyed innocent men, women and children, burned and pillaged, thinking to awe the world into submission.

The Doctrine of Force. He demolished holy places without number and devastated smiling and prosperous land and felt in his might that he was unconquerable, boldly proclaiming that all was his that could be taken by force and how the Almighty will laugh at him and hold him in derision. He who was once the proud and haughty ruler of a mighty nation is now a despised outcast and unwelcome guest in a foreign land.

Why did the United States enter the war? It was after 21 overt acts; 23 months after the sinking of the Lusitania and six months after the sinking of another ship under similar circumstances. Repeated warnings and demands had no effect.

The Kaiser deemed himself wholly able to cope with the world; he had the aid of the cruel Turk and other nations and after forty years of preparation started the war which he fondly dreamed would land him on a pinnacle of power but instead prostrated him and this nation. He had his airplanes, his artillery, his weapons and munitions, his army and all seemed invincible but "He that sitteth in the heavens laughed at him."

In our own land his propaganda busily at work spreading sedition, acquiring newspapers, fomenting trouble and doing dastardly deeds. He violated treaties; he made light of solemn promises; his allies vanished Belgium, Armenia, Roumania and other lands; he fomented trouble and discord in Russia and it seemed as if the World War would surely be his but he reckoned without the one who sitteth in the heavens.

People Must Learn God's Lesson. Wars will end when nations learn the lessons God means them to know. Pride must be humbled and monarchies done away. Not must we be too charitable for we must remember our arch-enemy does not at all admit defeat. When the nations learn the truths of righteousness and deal with each other after the word of God then we may feel the cost of the war was not too great. America is in the habit of doing great things. Our guests the veterans of the Civil War who fought so bravely for the preservation of the union and to establish freedom did great things giving their best efforts under the most trying circumstances of our service. The revision of our banking system has been a great step without which the war could hardly have been won. The Hun said across the seas in the time to do any good but we did it. They said if our soldiers did get there they would be a negligible factor, but let Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel and other places answer that question.

God With the Allies. When the French commander said it was of no use to try to go ahead. Pershing said they would go and they did go and not one particle of ground taken by the U. S. soldiers was ever retaken by the enemy. Let us rejoice in the great victory and the safe return of so many of our brave boys. It was made possible because God was on the side of the allies. The

TANK SPECIAL TO VISIT WHITE HALL

Victory Loan Exhibit Train to Be in White Hall Friday—First of Seven Year Locusts Make Appearance—Other Greene County News Notes.

White Hall, Ill., April 14.—The first verification of a visitation this season of 7-year locusts appeared Sunday with the finding of a shell containing one while digging in a garden plot. Their coming this time, however, is heralded as not a grave matter by government departments. The past week ended with vegetation and crops of all kinds in good condition, according to a weekly report made to the government. There is no report of wheat damage in this section, and the crop continues to develop exceedingly satisfactorily. Two showers during the week freshened vegetation. Friday night the temperature dropped to 31 degrees, and there was a light frost Saturday morning. This, however, did not damage tender vegetation. Corn planting began last week, and corn planting will commence this week. The acreage will be smaller than last year, because of the enlarged wheat acreage. There is little timothy meadow, but considerable clover.

Tank Special on the C. & A. The fifth victory loan exhibit train, unit No. 10, eighth federal reserve district, will be handled over this division of the C. & A. this week, visiting Greenfield, Carrollton, White Hall and Jacksonville. The train consists of three cars, and at each point the army tank will spend eight hours in making an exhibition in the interest of the government loan. The train will move from Carrollton to Greenfield Thursday, arriving at 7 a. m., at the latter point, and at 3 p. m. will proceed to Carrollton, where a stop will be made until 10:30 p. m. The train will then be brought to White Hall, and here the exhibit of the tank and speeches in the interest of the bond issue will be conducted from 7 a. m. until 3 p. m. Friday, when the special train will run direct to Jacksonville. The train consists of three cars, one of which is for conveying the tank, and there are ten people. The tank is fifteen feet long, ten feet high, and weighs seven tons. White Hall is preparing to extend its customary spirit of welcome.

THE MAN WHO SUSPECTS that he has kidney trouble and neglects to take measures promptly for his relief is taking a dangerously unwise risk. COUNCIL OPENS BIDS FOR SALE OF WATER BONDS

Council Held Two Sessions Monday—Routine Business Transacted.

At an adjourned session of the city council held Monday afternoon the city council opened bids for the sale of the $75,000 water bonds for building the new dam and filtration plant.

The citizens water committee met in conjunction with the council at the adjourned session and considered the bids. Under the commission form of government the bids must lie over forty-eight hours and when adjournment was taken it was until 9 o'clock Friday morning.

The regular session was held at 10 o'clock Monday morning with all members present except Commissioner Widmeyer. The reading of the minutes were dispensed with.

Commissioner Vasconcellos reported a leak adjacent to the Hopper and Waddell stores which had been repaired. Mr. Vasconcellos said an iron pipe was found connected with a lead pipe. The iron pipe had rusted thru and caused the leak. It could not be found where it was connected so the tap was closed.

An ordinance providing for the paving of West State street from Webster avenue to Finley street was given a first reading and laid over under the rules.

Transfer of Highways.

A resolution transferring part of Brooklyn avenue and East Chambers street to the city by Morgan county, thru the board of commissioners was read and accepted and order made a part of the records of the council.

Simeon Fernandes was present and asked the council to take some action regarding payment for coal furnished to the city by him before the present council went out of office. Mayor Rodgers said the matter would have attention.

The council then adjourned until 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

At the adjourned session all of the commissioners were present except Widmeyer.

Dr. Harker, H. M. Andre, M. R. Fitch, T. A. Chapin, J. W. Merrigan members of the citizens water committee also were present to hear the bids. On motion of Vasconcellos seconded by White the bids were ordered opened.

Bids for Bonds.

The bids are as follows:

E. H. Rollins Chicago premium of $1,042.50.

John Huven & Son Chicago $75,030 or a premium of $30.

C. W. McNear & Co., $1,298 discount.

N. W. Harris Trust & Savings Co., Chicago premium $15.

Elston & Company Chicago premium $75.

W. R. Compton Investment, premium $175.

There was some discussion of the manner in which the bid of E. H. Rollins was made and that of course will be threshed out at the meeting Friday.

The council on motion then adjourned until 9 o'clock Friday morning.

PARIS FULL OF MILITARY TOURISTS

Many Nationalities Included in Sightseeing Parties — Americans Generally Conducted by Y. M. C. A. Representatives.

PARIS, April.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Paris is full of military tourists, personally conducted thru not by the usual professional corps of guides and tourists agencies. Americans, English soldiers, Canadian and New Zealanders provide the chief membership of the sightseeing parties. Large sightseeing automobiles, termed in tourist vernacular "rubberneck wagons," swerve thru the streets of Paris always filled with overseas visitors.

Then, too, they have their regular announcer who has acquired a fluent speech in recounting the wonders of Parisian architecture. The Americans are generally conducted by some representative of the Young Men's Christian association, while the Britishers are served by members of the British women's auxiliary organization.

There also is in operation for the veterans of the war, a line of tally-ho coaches. These are in most demand because of their novelty for the Americans. "Doughboys," army nurses, artillerymen, the army cook and the army blacksmith pile into the coach. Perched high above the wheels they view the sights of Paris with holiday gaiety.

Foster & Harris, Hupmobile dealers, sold and delivered to Dr. Kopperl, a Hup Roadster; and a five passenger Hup touring car to Jas. W. Wilson, residing at Sinclair.

IS IMPROVED

Mrs. Lewis who has been ill for some time was so much improved Sunday that she was able to attend church with her sons, John and Charles Lewis. Afterward she took dinner with her son John and later had a ride thru the country. Mrs. Lewis is a member of the Salem Lutheran church and was glad to again be able to attend services.

FLOATING MINES ARE A GREAT DANGER

Derelicts in Dardanelles and Sea of Marmora Constitute Great Danger to Navigation—Floating Mines Constant Menace to Shipping.

Constantinople, March 9.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Floating mines in the Dardanelles and Sea of Marmora still constitute a great danger to navigation. Several ships have been lost since the armistice thru mine explosions. The armistice required Turkey to indicate all mines, but it has not been possible in all cases to give their exact location. Mine sweepers have been at work for some time, but naval authorities say it will be many months before vessels can proceed thru the straits with safety. No navigation is permitted at night. On passenger vessels life boat drills are held regularly, just as in the days when submarines menaced the seas.

Even in the broad stretches of the Aegean Sea the greatest precautions are taken against floating mines. In certain areas, passengers are required to wear life preservers, and narrow lanes of travel have been marked out for pilots to follow.

But it is in the Black Sea that the greatest danger exists. Not only are there numerous floating mines there, but extensive unmarked mine fields laid indiscriminately by the Germans, Russians and Bolsheviks. They are a constant menace to shipping. The steamer bearing the American Red Cross mission to Rumania narrowly missed a floating mine while proceeding to Constanza. Often these mines are carried down by the swift current in the Bosphorus Straits to the Sea of Marmora, where they are an ever-present danger to the hundreds of naval and merchant vessels.

Naval authorities say it will be several years before the waters of Europe are entirely free of floating mines. Many of the German mines destroyed by allied trawlers were found to have been moored by rope. When the rope rotted the mines broke from their anchorages and drifted in many cases to the main line of steamer travel.

NO SIGNS OF A RENEWAL OF BUILDING IN LONDON

London, April.—With the signing of the armistice it was expected that building operations in London, suspended by the war, would be quickly resumed. But so far there are no signs of a renewal of work on a dozen or more huge unfinished structures in various parts of the city.

Labor unrest is the cause assigned by one big contractor for this state of affairs. "If it were not for the labor unrest," he said, "I believe we should be so busy that we could employ the services of every man available. The unrest is not confined to the building world. Manufacturers, banks, insurance companies and other large corporations which have been thinking of rebuilding are for the present holding their hands."

MANY DESERTIONS FROM BOLSHEVIK ARMY

A Reported Lack of Training Among Officers and Men—Dedication of Arms and Munitions—Strong Anti-Bolshevik Sentiment.

London, March 22.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—An instance of the defection of the Bolshevik government is forced to practice in order to secure reinforcements for its army is contained in information just received in London.

A proclamation was issued at Petrograd ordering a trial mobilization of the "First Town Section" for two days to test its state of preparedness. It was stated that the men of the reserve would be permitted to return to their work after two days. When the reservists assembled they were told that as Petrograd was unsuitable for maneuver purposes they would be taken a short distance out of town. Unsuspectingly the men climbed into box cars, whose doors were then locked, and the men were sent as reinforcements to the western front. There they remain, although the Bolshevik officers naively complain that these reinforcements have not been of much fighting value.

Desertions from the Bolshevik ranks and disobedience of orders are reported on the increase in north Russia, also a lack of training among officers and men and deficiency of arms and material. In the Ural district riots are reported to have occurred owing to the difference in pay between troops at the front and those remaining behind the lines.

Anti-Bolshevik sentiment is said to be so pronounced that the authorities are afraid to take action against disaffected units or send them to the front.

ILLINOIS WOMAN'S COLLEGE

The unusual feature about the exhibition given in the Gymnasium at the Woman's College Saturday evening was that all the numbers were under the direction of members of the Junior and Senior classes who have been taking a normal training course in the Department of Physical Education this year. They assembled their respective groups before each number, brought them upon the floor, put them thru their drill, and took them off the floor without any undue pauses, hitches or misfortunes. It was quite an achievement for seventeen girls of absolutely different tastes and capabilities to so efficiently throw themselves into the spirit of the program that it was unnecessary for the physical director or her assistants, except to oversee. The one exception to this statement was in the event of the advanced marching tactics executed by the girls of the Sophomore Class, which involved a number of very difficult evolutions and a variety of commands which it was impossible to include in a single year's course of one hour a week. The participants as well as the leaders were inspired to do their best by the large and enthusiastically appreciative audience.

lar in anyway, its purpose being rather to present before the friends of the college the kind of work and the results of the ordinary routine of the department. It included, however, as the program shows, a variety of marching, dances, games, exercises, a relay race, roller skating and light apparatus work.

One number on the program was suggested by the constant reference we hear to our "singing army." The experiment was tried, and with a gratifying amount of success, of singing while marching evolutions with singing. The Freshmen who appeared in this number at the time and vim into both their marching and singing which proves that the physical training work may be used for other purposes than the mere requirement of strength and agility for a certainly in-stills, as well, the love of friends, class, college and country, for during the year popular songs have been used in class work with equally favorable results.

A basketball game which decided the class championship was an exciting finale to the evening's program, and after a hard fought game the Freshmen overwhelmed the Juniors, and so won the shield which is awarded to the successful class each year.

President Barker made the presentation speech and Mrs. Barker presented to four members of the college, arm bands which were awarded for fulfilling the requirements of the point system of the Athletic Association for such honor.

TO RECONSIDER "MORE DAYLIGHT" BILL.

Winnipeg, Man., April 8.—Despite strong pressure from western farmers which is said caused defeat of the federal "more daylight" bill, a new movement has been started for reconsideration of the measure by parliament.

Eastern business houses, railroad men, commercial organizations and city officials are urging the house of commons to re-enact at once the bill of last year. Several important eastern cities have threatened to push the clocks ahead an hour regardless of parliamentary action.

"We don't want to go to bed in broad daylight," has been the leading argument of farmers from Manitoba to the coast. In these northern regions last year, dusk did not come until after 10 p. m. Farmers declared it was impossible to get their households in slumberland until 10:30 o'clock or later and because of early hours for arising, sufficient sleep was impossible.

IN LOVING REMEMBRANCE OF MOTHER.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.
God in his wisdom has recalled,
The boon his love had granted,
And though the body slumbers here,
The soul is safe in Heaven.
